

Rain, sleet, and snow

Still couldn't stop our show!

Dr. Seuss Family Night was a huge success. Despite the last minute date change due to snow, teachers and staff still put on a great event with about 300 people in attendance. Here's what some of the community members had to say about the event:

"My children loved hearing and seeing their teachers in reading action."

"I learned a great method to help with reading comprehension!"

"I thought it was wonderful of the school to organize such a family event. I did not have to worry about dinner and both my girls had an evening of books and reading."

"We really hope you do it again!"

We are already looking forward to planning next year's event and are so grateful to some of the suggestions provided. You and your children can look forward to the opportunity to dress-up like Dr. Seuss characters. We will also encourage teachers and volunteers to do the same. There will be more decorations, games and activities to engage students and families in fun literacy activities. We will also attempt to include students in the planning process (i.e. have older kids read to younger students). Lastly, Mr. Bloom will definitely read in a larger venue. Thank you so much for your support and advice. We can't wait to see you at the event next year! If you have additional suggestions, please email Ms. Bonaiuto at mrbonaiuto@fcps.edu.

Don't forget to look at your Seuss-Your-selfies pictures. You can find the slide show on the FHES website on the right-hand side of the page: <http://www.fcps.edu/FreedomHillES/>
